At Patriot Insurance Company, we have a long history of true partnership.

Right here in the Northeast.

Our roots run deep in the Northeast. Our company was founded nearly 60 years ago by individuals whose families have lived here for generations. Our founders believed our neighbors deserved quality protection in their lives, and we kept that mission in mind when we started Patriot Insurance Company.

Starting from the ground up, our company was built by hard-working employees, and thanks to their efforts, it has grown leaps and bounds over the decades. Today, we offer home, auto, and business insurance in Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont, and we're backed by Frankenmuth Insurance – a company that has been providing protection and peace of mind for more than 155 years.

While our company has grown to serve more neighbors throughout the years, one thing has remained unchanged: To be a true partner that is always standing nearby. You have our word.
